G. O. P. CONTROL OF HOUSE NOW BEYOND DOUBT

Have 248 Seats, 21 Above Present Strength and 28 Above Majority—One District Only Still Undetermined

SENATE UNCERTAIN

52 Known Republicans Include at Least Four of LaFollette Group—One Win in Two Uncertain States Needed for Majority

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 6.—On the same side which swept President Coolidge back into office, the Republicans have come into actual as well as nominal control of the next house of representatives. Whether they also will have the whip hand in the senate still depends on the outcome of contests in several states.

With a single house district still in doubt, the Republicans have captured 146 seats in that body, on the face of unofficial returns. This is an increase of 21 over their present strength and 28 above a majority.

Leaders of the party regard this margin as sufficient to leave them in control, particularly as to organization in the face of any coalition between LaFollette insurgents and the Democrats, such as tied the organization of the present house for many days and successfully challenged a number of the latest returns showing the reelection of Francis L. Warren, Wyoming, the Republicans in the senate had increased their majority from the bare 49 to 52. Included in this number, however, was Senator LaFollette and at least three other of his supporters.

In the face of this situation it was conceded that in order to have a workable majority it would be necessary for the Republicans to win in at least one of the two contests in Minnesota and New Mexico and fill the vacancy in Connecticut at a special election next month, called after the death of Senator Brandegee.

In one of the two states where the senatorial result still is in doubt, would have an effect on the control of the administration forces to recapture control of the senate, the Republican candidate, Representative Thomas D. Schall, is in the lead over Magnus Johnson, one of the two former-Labor senators from Minnesota.

Democrats Gain Fear, Loss 27

In the other state, New Mexico, the Republican nominee, Senator Bursum, is trailing his Democratic opponent but making gains as the last half of the vote in the state is being reported. While it has no bearing on the question of the control of the senate, the contest which is the focus of general interest over the country is that in Iowa, where Smith W. Brookhart, after conceding his defeat at the hands of Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, has been re-elected on the basis of the present count of the unofficial returns.

Because of his repudiation of the national Republican ticket, Mr. Brookhart drew sharp criticism and uncompromising opposition from the organization leaders in his state and his opponent has been credited with having substantial support from that quarter.

The Republicans were able to increase their lead in the senate by capturing four seats now held by Democrats—one each from Colorado, Kentucky, Massachusetts and Oklahoma, giving them a total of 146 seats. The only hope the Democrats have of gaining ground over their indicated membership of 19 in the next senate lies in their ability to win out in Iowa and New Mexico.

Leaving out of consideration the three states where the result is still in doubt, the Republicans have elected 18 senators and the Democrats 12. In the house the Democrats appear to tonight to be certain of having 193 seats, as against their 207 in the present house. They took only four seats now held by Republicans while they were losing 27.

The districts in which the Democrats gained were the eighth Ohio, fifth Maryland, second Kansas, and eighth Missouri. They lost to the Republicans in the first New Hampshire, the 12th, 14th, 17th, 22nd and 26th Pennsylvania, and ninth New Jersey, the fourth, eighth and ninth Indiana, the fifth Connecticut, the first Michigan, the sixth and 21st Illinois; the third Oregon; the second, fourth and fifth West Virginia; the fifth, 13th and 14th Missouri; and the members at large from Delaware and Nevada.

This none of the gains are from the LaFollette bloc which returned its full strength. One of these insurgents—LaGuardia of New York city—was re-elected on the socialist ticket, and with Victor Berger of Milwaukee, will constitute the house membership of that party. In three Minnesota districts Farmer-Labor candidates were successful, one of them capturing a seat now held by a Republican.

With the removal of Frederick H. Gillett from the house through his election as a senator from Massachusetts, in place of David L. Walsh, Democrat, the Republicans of the next house will face what now presents to be a sharp fight over the speakership. Martin R. Madden, Illinois, chairman of the appropriating committee, already has announced his candidacy for that office, and friends of Nicholson Langworthy, Ohio, the present Republican floor leader, have stated publicly that they will seek his election.

SOLDIERS HAVE CHECKED FLAMES

Fire Near West Point Has Burned Over 12 Square Miles—Body Found on Mountain

Fort Montgomery, Nov. 6.—Marines from the Jones island arsenal and soldiers from West Point have succeeded tonight in bringing under control a forest fire which has burned over nearly 12 square miles of woodland on Dunderberg mountain, south of this village. Tonight patrols were standing guard over a chain of forest fires extending for 10 miles along the Hudson river valley, but all believed to be under control.

The 18 families which form the population of Doodletown, near here, returned to their homes tonight, bringing back furniture and belongings which they had taken with them early today when the flames threatened also property of Fort Montgomery, and the fort throughout the day was filled with smoke.

During the day the park police found the body of a man on the mountain. It apparently had rested there for some time and had not been identified tonight. It had not been harmed by the fire.

FOUR NEW FOREST FIRES REPORTED

One Day's Heavy Rain Would Enable Woods to Be Reopened to Hunters

Albany, Nov. 6.—Four new forest fires, all outside the "fire towns," were reported to the conservation commission tonight. One was near Montague, in Lewis county, another near Tompkins Corner, near Peekskill, a third at Manitou, near the new Bear Mountain bridge, and the fourth in the town of Keft, Putnam county.

Prediction of rain for tonight or tomorrow led conservation commission officials to indicate today the ban on hunting and camping in the fire towns might be lifted if the rain was general and sufficiently heavy to saturate thoroughly the forest floor.

Under McDonald declared, however, the hunting season could not be extended due to the fact it is fixed by statute and the legislature only by act of the legislature.

Just as soon as the forest fire danger is over," said Mr. McDonald, "the proclamation, closing the woods will be revoked and notice to that effect will be given to the public promptly. In the six days that have lapsed since the closing of the forests in the fire towns to hunting and camping it has been possible to bring the forest fires under control and the forest fire danger will be definitely averted by one day's steady rain."

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS IN TONG WARFARE BEGUN

New York, Nov. 6.—Following the arrival here today of Lee Ching Yat and Ching Fung, representatives of the Four Brothers, a powerful Chinese organization of the Pacific coast, meetings were begun of 12 peace delegates from various parts of the United States to arrange terms of a permanent peace between On Leong and Hip Sing tong to supersede the 14-day truce now in effect. Ching-Ling Chang, Chinese consul general, presided.

Today's parley was preliminary to a study of the peace terms submitted by leaders of both tongs between whom negotiations will be carried on by a committee of conciliation. Members of the peace delegation said tonight the principal demand of the On Leong tong calls for expulsion of the Hip Sing tong of 14 members, former On Leong tong members, who were admitted to the former body in violation of an agreement arrived at in 1921.

JUDGE BEN LINDSEY HAVING CLOSEST FIGHT OF CAREER

Denver, Nov. 6.—Judge Benjamin Lindsey, Democrat, is having the hardest election fight of his 23 years on the Denver juvenile court bench. He is leading his Republican opponent by 765 votes with six large precincts to be heard from. Judge Lindsey was opposed for reelection by the Ku Klux Klan.

"It looks like I've been beaten," the judge said.

Police have been assigned to guard the ballot boxes containing the votes of the six missing precincts.

INDIANS DESIRE COOLIDGE.
Harding, Mont., Nov. 6.—President Coolidge received a large majority over LaFollette and Davis in the first ballot cast by the Crow Indians, according to returns today from the Crow reservation agency. The count gave: Coolidge 142; Davis 22; LaFollette 25. The Indians were given the right of franchise during the latter part of the Harding administration.

COOLIDGE SEEMS N. D. WINNER.
(By the Associated Press.)
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—Roy Frazier, assistant LaFollette manager, told the Associated Press at 3 o'clock tonight when he was informed that President Coolidge had a lead of 9,337 votes over LaFollette with 234 precincts to be heard from out of the state's 2,150. "On the basis of these returns, that 'on the basis of these returns, that Coolidge has evidently won North Dakota,"

OBSTRUCTION NOT PLAN OF REPUBLICANS

Morris Declares Legislature Will Not Hinder Good Movements by Democrats and Expects No Undue Vetoes

GOVERNOR REPLIES

Declares Writer Sees Only Political Opportunity in Victory—Points to Power in Hands of Mrs. Knapp

New York, Nov. 6.—George K. Morris, chairman of the Republican state committee, issued a statement today in which he declared that the "Republican party is not a party of obstructionists" and in which he expressed the hope that governor Smith would "meet them half-way" in enactment of beneficial legislation, regardless of party lines.

"The Republicans," he said, "will not oppose legislation because it emanates from Democratic sources, if it is good legislation, and on the other hand we expect Governor Smith will not veto legislation because it emanates from Republican sources."

Later in the day Governor Smith replied to the Morris statement saying that Mr. Morris saw only political opportunity for his party in the Republican victory in both houses of the legislature and in the bulk of the state offices.

Mrs. Knapp to Have Great Power.

He took special note of mention in the Morris statement that as a result of the election of Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp of Syracuse, as secretary of state, the Republicans would have charge of the state census in May and June of 1925 and would direct the reapportionment of the state's senate and assembly districts in 1926. The governor said that he did not believe that the Republicans could continue the 1925 session of the legislature over that period to direct any reapportioning.

Governor Smith said that the only reapportioning of districts needed was a possible realignment in New York city. He said that when he first went to the legislature 20 years ago, New York city had only 100,000 people and that the metropolis has only 22 of the same total.

Because of the coming census, Mrs. Knapp will be one of the busiest state officers during the coming term and will also be the chief dispenser of patronage. She will have the designation of more than 1,000 officials in connection with the enumeration.

Albert Ottinger, the new attorney general, announced today that one of the first matters to receive his attention will be the enforcement of the law requiring the installation of voting machines in New York city.

MEDITERRANEAN CRUISE THEN LAW PRACTICE, PLANS DAVIS

New York, Nov. 6.—John W. Davis, defeated Democratic nominee for president, will return to the practice of law in New York after a holiday to be spent on a cruise in the Mediterranean. It was announced today by his secretary, Mr. Davis will leave within a few days for his former home, Clarksburg, W. Va.

Mr. Davis spent yesterday at the New York home of Frank J. Polk, former assistant secretary of state, and today at his home at Locust Valley, L. I.

Upon his nomination for President, Mr. Davis resigned from the law firm of Stetson, Jennings, Russell and Davis, which he joined in 1921 on finishing his services as ambassador to Great Britain. At the same time he gave up directorships in several corporations.

HARVARD MAY BE HIDDEN.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—The Harvard college yard is to be cloistered by the erection of buildings that will shut out street scenes and sounds, and four structures now projected and others that may be built will have sites that were to screen the historic campus. Coinciding with the making public of models of the contemplated new buildings today, it was announced that the university committee on planning had voted approval of the principles of cloistering, under conditions that will avoid "appearance of monastic or snobbish seclusion."

Explorer

Robert A. Bartlett of the U. S. naval reserve has worked for years on a project to explore the polar region by ship. But he is just as anxious for someone else to do it by aircraft. "Flying over the North Pole would be simple," says the explorer. "From Nome across the pole to Spitzbergen is a distance of only 2000 miles."

GIRL, 19, HELD FOR DEATH OF FATHER

Admits, Officials Say, She Struck Man With Iron Bar as He Lay on Couch

Auburn, Nov. 6.—Miss Susan Riley, 19, tonight was placed under arrest and arraigned on a charge of murder in the second degree for the killing of her father, Charles Riley, at their home in Moravia on the night of October 25.

The arraignment was before a justice of the peace at Owasco. The girl waived examination and was taken to the Cayuga county jail to await action of the January grand jury.

The arrest of the girl, which occurred in the Auburn city hospital, came as the result of her confession, officials announced, to the district attorney, coroner, and Dr. Seth S. Thomas, as that she had struck her father with a hollow iron bar, while he was lying on a couch in the kitchen. She said her father had scolded, according to the story told by the officials, because her elder sister, Myrtle, had gone to Moravia to have some teeth extracted. She grabbed an iron bar, the coroner said, and struck her father on the head. She was getting up from the couch. The girl stated that there had been no argument of the day of the tragedy. The girl had been at the hospital since the night of the murder. She was taken there because of her highly nervous condition.

FARM ORGANIZATION NAMES MANY POSSIBLE SECRETARIES

Chicago, Nov. 6.—President O. E. Bradford of the American Farm Bureau federation, today recommended to President Coolidge the following to succeed the late Henry C. Wallace as secretary of agriculture: Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; J. R. Howard, former president of the federation; H. M. Gore, acting secretary of agriculture; W. J. Coverdale, former secretary of the federation and now secretary-treasurer of the Grain Marketing company; L. J. Taylor, master of the National Grange; Murray D. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation; and Arthur Gilbert, commissioner of agriculture of Massachusetts.

These names, Mr. Bradford explained, were most frequently mentioned in response from 29 state farm bureaus to President Coolidge's request for suggestions as to men capable of filling the vacancy.

BOY LEAPS FIVE STORIES TO ESCAPE ANGRY CROWD

New York, Nov. 6.—Sixteen-year-old boy leaped five stories from the roof of a tenement house today in a desperate effort to escape from policemen and a crowd of men who were chasing him on the suspicion that he had entered and robbed a rooming house.

Although both of the boy's legs were broken and he suffered internal injuries from the leap, he crawled into a nearby basement and remained undiscovered for some time. The boy, who said his name was William Keith, was in a semi-conscious condition when found and was removed to a hospital. A passkey is said to have been found in his pocket.

LABOR BOARD CAN COMPEL TESTIMONY

Judge Withersham in Making Ruling, States Body Authority Can Not Be Considered Judicial—Redress Possible

100 MEN AFFECTED

Western Representatives of Engineers Had Refused to Testify—Cases Will Be Carried to Supreme Court

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today upheld the contention of the United States Railroad Labor board that it has authority to compel persons to appear before it to give testimony in matters being considered by the board.

His decision was given in a suit brought by the board against D. B. Robertson of Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and J. N. Maguire, general chairman of the Chicago & North Western section of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Judge Wilkerson ruled that such authority, however, could not be considered as being judicial, but it does provide that in the event of persons refusing to answer summonses the board can seek redress in the courts. The ruling affects about 100 railroad employees who, with Robertson and Maguire had refused to testify on the grounds that the Labor board had no legal right to question them. They took that stand when the board asked jurisdiction over a rule and wage dispute between the two brotherhoods and railroads.

Attorney Donald R. Richberg, who he appeared in behalf of the union representatives, said a night he would have no comment to offer on Judge Wilkerson's decision, but that the case would be carried directly to the supreme court of the United States. "We feel that we are right," declared Mr. Richberg, "and so shall carry the case to the highest court in the land for ruling. The law gives us 10 days in which to answer, and provides that we may appeal directly to the supreme court within 60 days of the date of the ruling."

The attorney said he would confer with his clients within a few days and decide definitely his course of action.

TRUSTY AT AUBURN SLAIN; MYSTERY SURROUNDS CASE

Auburn, Nov. 6.—Arthur Smith, trusty in Auburn prison, was found murdered by an unknown assailant within the prison this afternoon. Captain E. G. Lann saw Smith stagger into the yard from the alleyway leading from the north wing of the cell block. He was bleeding from nose and mouth and collapsed in the yard. No other convict was seen in the prison infirmary without making a statement of any kind. He had been struck with a three cornered weapon which fractured his skull while a second blow had struck his neck and severed the jugular vein. Prison officials began an investigation at once on the theory that some enemy inmate had killed him, but no suspect had been located at a late hour today. So far as known Smith had no enemies.

Although there is sometimes jealousy of a trusty, he was received here from Erie county June 22, 1923, to serve not less than six years nor more than life for manslaughter. He was 29 years old.

"With a full realization that unity of purpose can bring a fulfillment of our desires, we should, in the observance of armistice season, fervently offer our prayers to almighty God for peace throughout the world.

"In asking the people of this state to renew their hopeful expectation of the first armistice day, I request them to attend their respective places of worship at this time and pray for the guidance of divine providence to the end that all nations may join in the hymn of 'Glory to God in the Highest and On Earth Peace, Good Will to Men.'"

HEAVY SNOWFALL HINDERS COUNTING

Western North Dakota Covered with Two to Eight Inches of Snow Day After Election

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 6.—This year, as in 1920, election returns came in slowly from the counties of western North Dakota.

A heavy snowfall which covered the western part of the state from two to eight inches the day after election proves an added deterrent to speedy gathering of the vote.

A strange mixture of the new and the old, is this western North Dakota country where stretches of foothills, buttes, and badlands are swallowed in the vast upland ranges of prairie land. Long distance telephone connect all the county seats with Fargo, but the getting of returns into the county seats through melting snow is a matter for riders of couriers.

Some of the counties like McKeen, which are in the heart of the prairie, are still in the hands of the snow.

law, hills and plains are small empires in themselves. It will be days before these can report complete returns.

BROOKHART HAS 1,116 VOTES PLURALITY OVER OPPONENT

(By the Associated Press.)
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 6.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart will return to Washington as Iowa's junior senator unless the official canvass of senatorial votes cast in Tuesday's election or recount upsets the result indicated by the unofficial reports. The official canvass, by county election boards, is to begin next Monday.

Tonight, with the official count thoroughly rechecked, Senator Brookhart led Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, by 1,116—the smallest margin by which any Republican candidate for major office has won in Iowa in many years. The total vote, as compiled by the Associated Press, was Brookhart 147,523; Steck 146,407.

Whether Steck will seek a recount by the senate elections committee was problematical tonight. He had given little consideration to such a move, he announced.

LITTLE HOPE HELD OUT FOR RECOVERY OF LODGE

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—Little hope was held out tonight for the recovery of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge by physicians who have been in attendance at his bedside since he suffered a stroke at the Charlesgate hospital here yesterday. In a bulletin issued early this evening the outlook for his recovery was pronounced "most unfavorable." The senator was "still unconscious and his condition was said to be little changed."

Just before midnight the attending physicians issued a bulletin stating that there had been "absolutely no change in Senator Lodge's condition." He was still unconscious, it was said, as he had been since noon yesterday.

LEAD IN PENNSYLVANIA GROWS

Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge's plurality in Pennsylvania continued to mount upward as additional returns from Tuesday's election were received tonight and with 242 of the state's 2,150 districts still to be heard from, it was rapidly approaching the million mark.

Figures from the 1,226 districts heard from gave the President a lead of 97,135 over John W. Davis, who led Senator LaFollette by 12,002 votes.

DEFEAT ENOCH J. JOHNSON
(By the Associated Press.)
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—McGregor Johnson, Minnesota's widely known "first farmer" senator, declared tonight when he was informed that President Coolidge had a lead of 9,337 votes over LaFollette with 234 precincts to be heard from out of the state's 2,150. "On the basis of these returns, that Coolidge has evidently won North Dakota,"

'SOLID SOUTH' ONLY STATES DAVIS SECURED

Hope of Taking New Mexico Votes as Late Returns Received—Wisconsin and North Dakota May Be for LaFollette

HAS BUT 137 VOTES

Coolidge's Electoral College Representation Stands at 374 and May Be Increased to 382 by Later Tabulations

Washington, Nov. 6.—The Coolidge tide, gathering increasing momentum, has found effective resistance only in the "solid south," Wisconsin, and possibly North Dakota.

Its crest has swept a safe Republican majority into the house and is moving with a force which may accomplish a like result in the senate. The Democrats only hope of adding to the electoral vote it received from the "solid south" began to vanish today when the Coolidge ticket rolled ahead in New Mexico, where first returns had shown a lead for Davis. At the same time, it showed a resistance in North Dakota that seemed likely to stem the threatened inroads of the LaFollette forces.

With Wyoming apparently definitely thrown in to the Coolidge column on the basis of latest returns, the president's total electoral vote certainly will be 374, and it may reach 382. This would depend upon his ability to hold his present advantage in New Mexico and North Dakota.

The Davis total stood at 136 and the LaFollette vote in the electoral college at 13.

Coolidge Gets 15,000,000 Votes.

With the returns for the whole country still incomplete and practically none official, President Coolidge had in excess of 15,000,000 votes over two millions in excess of the combined estimated total of Mr. Davis and Senator LaFollette.

On the basis of this calculation, the Democratic candidate had approximately 8,500,000 and LaFollette 4,500,000.

An analysis of the popular vote showed that Mr. Coolidge had received nearly two million votes in each of the states—New York and Pennsylvania a million in two other states, Pennsylvania and Illinois. In several other states the vote for him exceeded half a million. These included Indiana, California, Michigan, New Jersey and Ohio.

While Senator LaFollette may carry but a single state, his supporters were able to maintain their strength in the house of representatives. Whether the bloc of senators identified with him will remain intact depends upon the outcome of now close contests in two states—Iowa and Minnesota.

COOLIDGE RAPIDLY NEARING HARDING'S MARK IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Nov. 6.—President Coolidge was rapidly nearing the record-breaking plurality given President Harding in Illinois in 1920, tonight as the belated unofficial returns were compiled.

The President's plurality over John W. Davis on the basis of returns from 5,264 out of the state's 5,282 precincts tonight had reached 819,190. President Harding's plurality was more than 816,000. The vote tonight stood: Coolidge 1,334,472; Davis 515,432; LaFollette 377,151.

Charles S. Dineen, Republican, United States senator-elect, had piled up a lead of more than 550,000 over Colonel A. A. Sprague, Democrat, while Sen. Small, Republican gubernatorial incumbent, will have a final majority of more than 350,000.

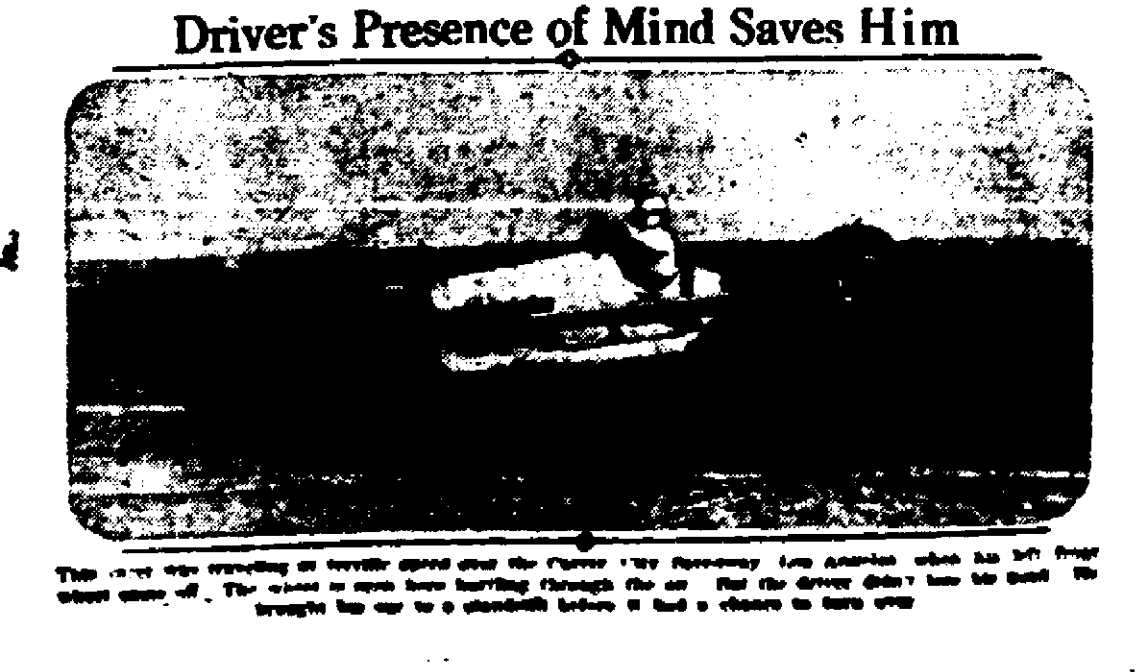

TWO MORE PLAGUE DEATHS REPORTED IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 6.—Two deaths today from pneumonic plague increased the toll to 23 victims. The disease became prevalent in the Mexican quarter here October 17, Dr. W. M. Dickie, secretary of the state board of health and director of the anti-plague committee, announced tonight.

Four new cases have been discovered in the Mexican section and in the Belvidere district, eight miles from here, in the past 24 hours, Dr. Dickie said, while two more suspects are under observation. The total number of cases is 37.

Fewer Lives Lost in

Mines of Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, Pa.—Although there was an increase in production of more than 26,000,000 tons, bituminous coal-mining fatalities in Pennsylvania last year showed a decrease of 12, the number of lives lost in 1933 being 605. This was disclosed in preliminary report of Joseph J. Walsh, state secretary of mines. None of the fatalities was caused by gas or dust explosions, a record unbroken in the last quarter of a century, the secretary asserted.

In 1933 the state's approximately 2,500 bituminous mines produced slightly in excess of 135,000,000 tons of coal, compared with 108,300,000 tons in 1932.

Stamford, Nov. 6.—At a recent meeting held at Roxbury in the interest of a public health nurse for this section a thorough discussion of the subject was had and it was voted to combine the townships of Harpersfield, Stamford and Harpersfield and accordingly, petitions asking for a special election to vote on the proposition to employ a public health nurse will be presented to the town boards of each of the townships, and it is expected the petitions will be acted on at once and it is hoped that the special election will be held the same day in each town and that the proposition will carry in all of them thereby reducing the proportionate share of the cost for each town. Considerable interest in the matter is evidenced and in the town of Harpersfield 25 taxpayers have signed a petition calling for the special election.

BASKETBALL TONIGHT

Veteran Cobleskill High School Team to Open Oneonta Season Against Yellow and White — Public Welcome.

The basketball season will open in Oneonta this evening at the High school when the first veteran team of Cobleskill High school will take the floor against the Yellow and White quintet. There is a great deal of interest in this first home game of the local team and a large attendance is anticipated. However, it is expected that there will be accommodations for about 150 of the general public, and they will be welcomed at the game. Only the usual slight admission charge will be levied.

The Cobleskill High team of last year will be well remembered in Oneonta, trying the locals for the championship of the league and necessitating an additional game, which Oneonta won, and when the fact that this team is practically the same as that of last year, every member of the team, being a veteran, the closeness of the struggle which is promised is apparent.

Coach Risedorph has worked hard with the large squad which answered the call this fall, and while the team is not yet in mid-season form, still Oneonta fans are expecting to see a very close game.

The team which will start tonight will be composed of Permon or Burdick, center, Delaney, Shaw, Mulkins and Borden, forwards, and Hamilton, Keen, Edmunds and Orr, guards.

The big game will start promptly at 8 o'clock, preceded by a good preliminary at 7 o'clock.

Smoke of Forest Fires.

During the last two days, smoke from forest fires has thrown a haze over most of Otsego county and the city of Oneonta. The smoke drifting in this locality is from fires raging at considerable distances from Oneonta, as reports from the headquarters of the state police at Sidney declare that there are no serious fires in Otsego county.

Crews of incoming trains on the Delaware & Hudson declare that the smoke is so thick that it is difficult to pass the line that it is difficult to pass through it without discomfort. This is especially true in the vicinity of Richmondville and Worcester.

Reports from the vicinity of Stamford declare that the section is enveloped in a heavy pall of smoke. A serious fire has been raging for several days on Otsego mountain, in the town of Gilboa and several hundred acres have burned over. The towns of Gilboa and Blenheim have had from 40 to 60 men fighting the blaze night and day. The fire fighters are having great difficulty in their work as the fire breaks out again as fast as it is checked.

ANNUAL ARMISTICE DANCE

Oneonta Post American Legion With Jan Garber and His Original Orchestra. School of Dancing Free.

When the Oneonta post of the American Legion first started their annual Armistice dance they felt that they would make the event one of the best dances ever held in Oneonta. The universal approval which that dance gained, the reputation of the biggest and best dance ever held in Oneonta, are two cherished points with the members of the post and every year even greater efforts have been put forth to hold to the standard established, and to make each annual event better than the previous ones.

The Legion could not foresee the great leaps by which their dances were to establish a reputation for providing the best dance orchestras in the world, but last year when Vincent Lopez and his orchestra was brought to Oneonta by a guarantee of $1,300 it was realized that it would be difficult to secure a bigger attraction.

The committee of the post started work immediately, however, and within a short time Jan Garber and his orchestra had been booked. This orchestra is one of the best known in the world, and noted for the raudy stunts which that organization provides during their dances.

So again it was possible to promise the biggest and best dance ever held in Oneonta.

The Legion is going to see that their record is raised even higher, and every detail of the dance arrangements are receiving exceptional attention. Decorations are again in the hands of Dr. L. S. DeLamater, who of course will have something unusual for those who see the drill hall of the memory on the evening of November 10.

Boxes are to be provided again this year, and may be reserved at the store of the Carr Clothing company. Tickets for the dance may also be secured at Lambert's Clothes shop, Ingram's Cigar store, Acorn Hardware store, Moore's Corner bookstore, and A. J. Pedrone at the Wilber National bank.

BAPTIST CHURCH PROGRESSES

Contractor Makes Excellent Progress on New Improvements to First Baptist Structure — To Cost About $10,000.

Rapid progress is being made in the work of remodeling and redecorating the First Baptist church building at Chestnut and Academy streets. The total cost of the new work will be approximately $10,000.

Plasters now are completing the work in the new Sunday School room and the casing also is being built. The entire structure will have a new roof, the side walls being continued upward to give more room. A high grade of slag roofing was used.

As soon as the work of remodeling and redecorating the Sunday School room is completed, the workmen will turn their attention to the entire auditorium, which will be entirely redecorated. The dining room has been entirely reconstructed, decorated and completely equipped with modern devices and dishes necessary for this part of the church work.

The new grade entrance will be constructed from the Academy street side and a second new entrance from the Chestnut street side. That portion of the church in the vicinity of the Sunday School room has been raised one story to provide more room. It is expected that the Sunday School room will be ready for use in about a month while the entire program of improvement will not be completed before the middle of January. William Byrd of Milford is the contractor in charge of the work.

KNOWS FROM THE INDIAN

Songs and Language of the Red Man Known as Wilbur's Club Yesterday — William E. Yager Addresses Club — Program of Indian Music.

It has been said that the language of the American Indian is practically a sealed book, but the seal was broken and a number of interesting pages read yesterday afternoon when William E. Yager spoke to the members of the Woman's club on the origin and characteristics of a language "full of sweet and great words," as William Penn so wisely said.

In opening his talk Mr. Yager remarked: "I could picture for you the wooden walled cities of 600 years ago; the limitless forests; the numberless interesting customs of the Red man, but I have chosen to tell you, rather, something that you can't find out for yourselves. I mean by this the languages of the Indian. There is no such thing as the Indian language. In North America alone there were from 50 to 75 different tongues. Each section of the country claimed its own special court language while the only universal tongue used by the Indian is the one that is used by all men—the sign language.

"All language is undoubtedly derived from sound but this is especially true of the language of this race. The Indian named a bird from the sound of its note and so with all other words. He made, moreover, a number of finer distinctions than we make in English, such as distinguishing between animate and inanimate objects as well as between sexes.

"The Indian had no newspapers but depended entirely upon the spoken word for the propagation of his ideas. The red men practiced their speeches in the woods for the tribes refused to listen to a chief who was a poor speaker. Such care on the part of the leaders has served to keep the uniformity of the languages.

"Some scholars have been known to say that the misery of savage life can be imagined from the sparseness of the Indian's vocabulary, but the error in this can easily be seen. The Indian formed new words as easily as we do, and always formed them from his own language rather than borrowing them from another as the English invariably do. As a result of this borrowing habit of ours we have about 2,001 distinctly English words in our language.

"The Indian language is one of the most musical and sonorous that we know. An old Indian once said, 'It couldn't be a good language, if it couldn't be spoken with a pipe in the mouth.'

Mr. Yager closed his very interesting talk by explaining the meaning of several local Indian names.

Excellent Indian Music.

Following the address of the afternoon an annual and most excellent program of Indian music was enjoyed. Robert Gardner played three original melodies, "The Wren," "Love Call," and "Love Song." Miss Perry of the High school faculty played McDowell's popular piano composition, "Indian Love," while Miss Annie Waters sang a group of four Indian songs, "An Old Skin Blanket," "Lullabye," "Far Off I Hear a Lover's Flute" and "The Waters of the Minnetonka." The last number was accompanied by a violin obligato by Mr. Gardner.

The entire program, which was arranged by Mrs. F. J. McMenamin, was one of the most interesting of the season.

The hostesses for the afternoon were, Mrs. Irving Bolton, Mrs. I. S. Dauley, Mrs. Charles Murdock and Miss Nettie Murdock.

TRAINING CLASS MEETS.

"Home Management" Discussed at Meeting of Home Bureau Leaders.

The class was instructed by Miss Edna Smith, specialist from the State college of agriculture at Ithaca, who took for her special topic of instruction yesterday, "The equipment of the small kitchen."

Miss Smith stated that the aim of the class was to aid housekeepers in making satisfactory choices of equipment, her talk dealing with the quality, use, preparation and care of various utensils, including, Japanese ware, glass, earthenware, aluminum, enameled ware and tinned ware. An exhibit of "perfect kitchen equipment" was on display, the utensils having been loaned by Lauren and Rowe.

Pastor of "Horsemen's Church"

Last winter when a fight on pari-mutuel betting was waged in the Kentucky legislature, the Rev. T. L. Settle defended the gambling machine, saying "they served as a muzzle for crooks." Recently ground was broken for the foundation of a new $150,000 church building, this gift to Dr. Settle and his flock of "horsemen's church." The minister has already been presented with a $12,000 residence from funds raised at the tracks by horsemen.

PONY FARM RESORT RAIDED

Samuel Collum Arrested and a Quantity of Alleged Wine, Beer and Whiskey Seized by Federal Agents and State Troopers.

Samuel Collum, proprietor of the resort known as the Pony Farm, on the Otego road about four miles from Oneonta, was arrested Tuesday night charged with a violation of the prohibition laws, and a quantity of alleged beer, wine and whiskey seized, as the result of a raid that night.

The raid was made by Federal prohibition Agent Frederick Stevens, assisted by state troopers led by Captain D. E. Fox, on a search and seizure warrant issued by United States Commissioner Arthur Seybold on evidence secured by the troopers. The party swooped down on the place about 10:30 o'clock while a dance was in progress. More than 50 persons were temporarily held in a room and then released.

Collum was arraigned before Commissioner Seybold, pleaded not guilty and was held under $1,000 bond for action by the next United States grand jury.

According to the authorities, the resort has had a questionable reputation for some time and numerous complaints have been received concerning it. The authorities hope that the raid will result in the elimination of the resort from those listed as being conducted under circumstances which have resulted in complaints.

SUPREME COURT CALENDAR

Fifty-One Cases Down For Trial Before Justice Charles E. Nichols Next Week at Cooperstown.

The calendar of the trial and special term of the supreme court in and for the county of Otsego, which opens next week Monday at Cooperstown, contains fifty-one cases, of which one is preferred, 48 are issues of fact tried by jury and two are issues of fact tried by the court.

Owing to the illness of Justice A. L. Kellogg, Justice Hill will preside over the term in Madison county previously assigned to the former, and Justice Charles E. Nichols of Schoharie will take the Otsego term.

The one case on the preferred calendar is that of Maxwell M. Sobers as guardian ad litem for Mabel M. Sobers, an infant, against the Delaware and Hudson company. There are four other cases in which the D. & H. is named as defendant, the plaintiffs being John M. St. Clair for personal injuries, Grace E. Bass as executrix for negligence, Hiram W. Sheldon for breach of contract, and Charles Becker for negligence. In the Sheldon case the Erie Railroad company is implicated. There are only two divorce actions on the docket, those of Estelle M. Davis vs. Seymour Davis, an unusually small showing in cases of marital infidelity.

Other cases of interest are those of H. M. Stanford vs. the American Railway Express company for negligence, Bessie A. Marshall vs. J. M. Schine et al. also for negligence, those of Mary and Fred Richards vs. T. J. Macey and Schine Theatrical company, Inc., for negligence and money damages; and Rhoda Ford as administratrix of Homer G. Ford, deceased, vs. Orson Miller for negligence. There are also two negligence actions against the McDonald Construction company, the plaintiffs being Frank H. and Adah E. Marx, and there are three cases growing out of the affairs of the late Miller-Strong Drug company. These suits are by Thera M. Noble, W. Clinton Noble and a Rita Noble, and William A. and Lyle Noble against Walter L. Murdoch.

It is believed that there will be a somewhat protracted session of the grand jury, owing to the fact that there is an unusually large number of cases in which the defendants are out on bail or in the county jail, it is probable that most of the week will be occupied in disposing of these cases. As District Attorney Pearson will become county judge with the new year, and so would be ineligible to try indictments which he had been instrumental in securing. It is likely that at the term of court held by Judge Welch in December an effort will be made to clear the calendar, thus obviating the necessity for an out-of-the-district judge.

MT. VISION FARMER SUICIDES

Charles A. Stanton, Despondent Since the Death of His Wife in April Last, Ends His Own Life.

Charles A. Stanton, residing near Mt. Vision, committed suicide at his home yesterday morning at about 8 o'clock by cutting his throat with a razor. Mr. Stanton had been quite depressed since the death of his wife in April last and several times had declared if he could muster the courage he would put himself out of the way. He had been more despondent than usual during the past couple of days and while the family had endeavored to keep him occupied and cheerful he went into his room at the hour named and before anyone could reach him had committed the rash act.

The funeral services will be held from his late home on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be private. Rev. George Adams, pastor of the Mt. Vision Baptist church, will officiate, and interment will be made in the new Mt. Vision cemetery.

Mr. Stanton was born in the town of Otsego, May 15, 1858, and he was the son of the late Chauncey Stanton. He has resided most of his life in the vicinity of Laurens and Mt. Vision, residing for a few years on a farm near Davis switch, between Laurens and West Oneonta. For a number of years he has owned and occupied the farm on which he died, formerly known as the Hard farm.

Surviving him are two sons, Albert C. Stanton, who is employed by West & Nesbitt at Laurens, and Myron, both of whom reside on the old homestead, and by one sister, Mrs. Elmer Spoor, also of Mt. Vision. There is one surviving brother, Emory Stanton, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Alice Thomas, residing in Florida. The wife who died in April last was Alice Cook, who resided in New Lisbon at the time of their marriage in 1879.

Mr. Stanton was a member of the Mt. Vision grange and was known as an industrious farmer and a good citizen.

Coroner Getman of this city was called and after learning all of the facts from the family decided that no further investigation was necessary, and will sign the death certificate in accordance with the facts as stated above.

WHAT ONEONTA HAS MADE

Production Committee of the Red Cross Sews to Good Advantage For the Unfortunate.

The Production committee of the Oneonta chapter, Red Cross, in charge of Mrs. L. D. Slane, has sewed a large number of garments during the past year, that have gone to Porto Rico, to the Greek refugee babies, and to the men in service in the canal zone. Perhaps the greatest feather in the cap of the local committee is the exhibition of thirty pieces showing the work done locally, with waste material that was made at the request of Washington headquarters and sent to that city for the national convention.

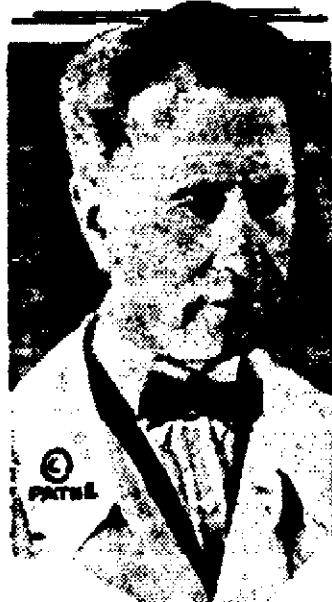

This exhibition, which was highly commended by Red Cross officials from all over the country, had several unique features. One was a demonstration of what could be done with old umbrellas. Two hats and a pair of bloomers were shown that had been made from this every-day article after its first line of use had been exhausted. The exhibit contained several dresses, a boy's suit, hats and numerous articles. An exhibition was also staged in the Red Cross tent at the local fair grounds, where hundreds of persons from the surrounding county had the opportunity to see it and judge of the work of this section of the Red Cross.

Twenty-five each of layettes, rompers, girls' dresses, bloomers and suits were made during the year by the production committee and forwarded to Porto Rico. So valuable is this work that the Oneonta chapter has been informed that many of the outfits made to them are sent to the men in the service in the canal zone. The work of the Production committee is one of the most important activities of the local chapter. The sewing is all done by volunteer workers in the odd time they can devote to it. Many of the materials employed are waste that would otherwise be destroyed. For the little baby garments, however, new materials must be used, and this is taken care of each year by a portion of the Red Cross budget.

DIES SUDDENLY IN NIGHT

Body of Daniel Freeland of South Hartwick Found Yesterday Morning at Home of Brother at Hartwick.

Hartwick, Nov. 6.—The body of Daniel Freeland, a well known farmer of South Hartwick, was found early this morning near the house of his brother, George H. Freeland, of this village, where he had been taken for care during his illness from which he had been suffering for about two weeks. The body was discovered at about 6 o'clock by Lafayette DeForest, an employee, as he went to the well on the premises for water. It is thought that the man arose in his sleep at about midnight and started for a short walk, collapsing just after leaving the house.

Funeral services will be held from the home of George H. Freeland Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial at Hartwick cemetery.

Daniel Babbitt Freeland was born at Hartwick June 4, 1864, the son of Peter and Sarah Tople Freeland. He had remained a bachelor, living on the homestead farm at South Hartwick until about six years ago since when he had conducted a sawmill at Cooperstown.

Besides the brother mentioned, George H. Freeland, the deceased is also survived by another brother, Harvey Freeland, of South Hartwick. He was an industrious man, with a host of friends and no enemies, one who will be missed by a wide circle.

Royal Mounted Again

Rams Down Quarry

Prince Rupert, B. C.—The end of a long trail which three members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been following since early in June, and which led them through more than a thousand miles of the untamed northlands of Canada, where snow and pack dogs were the only means of transportation, was almost in sight when the three left here aboard the steamer Princess Alice for Vancouver with five Indian prisoners.

The Indians, said to be virtually braves, are charged with the murder of a seventeen-year-old Indian boy whom other members of his tribe suspected of practicing witchcraft. According to the story told, the boy was hanged, beat down, and stoned to death.

A young girl of this tribe, likewise suspected of witchcraft, is said to have been suspended for three days and nights by one foot and one hand, as a result of which she was crippled. The prisoners live chiefly on meat, regarding bread with suspicion.

YELLOW FEVER UPON IN SOUTHERN COAST

Latest Venezuelan Epidemic Reported to Be Worst in History

Washington.—Yellow fever was officially reported from Venezuela in 1923 and from Peru in 1924. The cases have appeared in Venezuela on the Atlantic coast since 1921. A few cases were reported from British Guiana in 1924, but the epidemic was largely confined to the coast. In British Guiana, the epidemic was confined to the coast. In British Guiana, the epidemic was confined to the coast.

Early in 1923 several hundred cases were reported at Guaymas, the capital of the state of Coahuila de Zaragoza. On invitation from the Coahuila government, experts were sent by the board, the diagnosis of yellow fever was confirmed and control measures were instituted. The epidemic had been rapidly reduced and new cases ceased to appear. Some have been reported since May, 1924. There is every reason to believe that the disease is under control. The survey of adjoining regions has been carefully and completely carried out and no new foci have been discovered.

A serious epidemic occurred in Ceara, Brazil, from 1921 to 1923, killing both foreigners and Brazilians. Occupational tests have been reported from Recife, the capital of the state of Pernambuco. In Recife the disease has been epidemic, and during 1924 a total of 187 cases were reported, with 30 deaths.

A feature of the Brazilian campaign has been the presence of Doctor Ruggieri during part of the year. He carried on further research in the etiology of the fever, demonstrated the presence of the Lophoprosynthetis in Brazilian cases and showed again the value of the Pfeiffer reaction in diagnosis.

Elgin to Preserve Trees Over 1,000 Years Old

Elgin.—Over trees that were good sized saplings during the first glaciation, according to foresters, have been turned over to the Illinois Natural Study society of Elgin by the city, and will be cared for in perpetuity by the society. Only one other large grove of arbutus, or white oaks, is said to exist in the state. Foresters estimate that many of the oaks in Elgin are more than 1,000 years old, and that very probably one specimen grew in a part of a large grove which was well developed in the Ninth or Tenth century. The trees belong to the same family of plants that include the famous oaks of Lebanon. Scientists say that, barring external accidents and disease, there is no reason why the trees should not live another 1,000 years.

The society, according to Carl F. Groenewald, president, plans to place a permanent label on every tree in the 121-acre park, and to maintain the grove as a scientific preserve and as a public show place.

of Whipping Six-Foot Man

New York.—Vera Miles Hall, an actress weighing 98 pounds, was convicted in General Sessions court of whipping Edward S. Hurley, a six-foot motion picture agent, in his office on September 8. Sentence was suspended.

Miss Hall admitted in court that she became excited when she visited Hurley's office to make him retract allegedly disparaging statements about her, and that she lashed him with a three-foot dog leash. She declared, however, that she employed the leash only when Hurley made a gesture which led her to believe he was going to attack her.

WANTED: CO-OPERATION

MR. TAXPAYER: Do you know that the independent grocers of your city are doing their level best to prove themselves friends to you? Do you realize, Mr. Taxpayer, the mighty big part you play, when your children and our children daily take their books—and go happily off to school—their dreams of advancement coming true because of the wonderful advantages of education given them in this city of ours? Don't you appreciate a little help in the matter of paying for these advantages?

Do you know that there are 13 to 14 chain stores operating in our city and paying taxes only where the main office is located?

NOT ONLY THAT BUT—

Do you understand that when you patronize a chain store, the cash you hand over (Oneonta speaking) is practically out of circulation?

Does the chain store contribute very much to the churches, Red Cross, Boy Scouts and the many other organizations that we, as TAXPAYERS, are asked to support and DO SUPPORT?

Do you know that the chain store cannot supply all the needs of your table, while we all carry a complete line of fresh fruits, vegetables and in many cases fresh meats and fish? And, besides, kerosene oil, a necessity in many homes, is NOT handled by most chain stores. Do the chain stores, when you're just a little hard up, lend a helping hand in the form of credit? Do they deliver your goods free of charge, rain or shine, early or late, or any other way? And do they do a lot of other things we do, to make your shopping easy?

The maintaining of our FREE DELIVERY system and the extra SERVICE we render are both heavy items of expense to us, but a boon to the busy housewife, and we bear the burden cheerfully.

Furthermore, we carry, in and out of season, a fine stock of good things to eat, not to be found in chain stores and our prices are always fair and moderate and consistent with good business principles.

MR. TAXPAYER, your good will is our greatest asset and be assured that our best efforts are always put forth to serve you.

DERELICTS LEAD IN MERRY CHASE

Never Where Last Reported
When United States
Vessels Arrive.

Worfolk, Va.—Is the Atlantic ocean strewn with derelict vessels, abandoned by their crews in storms, and which for months and perhaps years have drifted with the currents, first in one direction and then in another, defying capture by government vessels sent out to find and destroy them? Records of the hydrographic department show many vessels torn asunder by storms have drifted from the Virginia coast and other parts of the Atlantic ocean to England, Spain and Scotland, and almost back to the point where they were abandoned without being detected by searching craft.

The most recent case of the peculiar action of ocean currents is shown in the remarkable drifting record of the British schooner Governor Parr, which was abandoned off the Jersey coast October 3, 1923, and which is still wallowing around in the sea a dangerous menace to navigation. This vessel has drifted more than 3,000 miles. Sightings of the vessel have been reported dozens of times by passing ships, the Parr was never in the position, or even near it, given by the vessel that saw her when a government craft went out to find her.

On Near Gibraltar.

According to the last reports received here the Parr was sighted in latitude 34.15 north and longitude 12.05 west. That is only a few hundred miles from Gibraltar. The vessel previously was sighted off the coasts of Nova Scotia, Spain, Portugal and Scotland.

In ninety days the schooner drifted 300 miles, approximately nine miles a day. She first started drifting in a northerly direction. As the currents changed she drifted northeast, then east, and now she is on her way back to the American coast. Marine men expect the craft to drift back to the point where she was originally abandoned by her crew. The government has spent considerable money in fuel for ships that have chased the Parr without ever getting a glimpse of her.

Government records show the schooner S. P. Blackburn, abandoned by her crew some years ago off the American coast, drifted six months in all directions and finally went ashore, where she remained.

The schooner W. L. White, which was abandoned 60 miles east of New York, drifted many months, finally being cast upon the beach at Hales Island off the coast of Scotland. She was hunted for weeks by searching craft, but was never found.

The schooner Anna R. Bishop performed a drifting feat that baffled shippers of American coast guard cutters and finally gave herself up when a northeast storm drove her ashore off the British coast.

Schooner With a Record.

One of the most remarkable drifting performances on record was made by the American schooner Nettie Champion, which was abandoned by her crew in a northeast storm off Hatteras. During December a nor'easter ripped the sails from the Champion and high seas tore her seams apart, causing water to rush into the vessel's hold at an alarming rate. Her crew took to small boats, were picked up by a passing ship and landed at New York.

Practically every week after her crew left her the Champion was sighted at various points along the coast by passing ships. As late as May of the following year the Champion was sighted. She was then off the British coast. There's no record showing what fate finally overtook the old craft.

The Governor Parr, because of her peculiar drifting record, has been named "the Floating Ghost." She is loaded with lumber and is considered a most serious menace to navigation.

New York Defense Guns Shoot 30 Miles in Test

New York.—The test of the new 16-inch guns at Fort Tilden, on Rockaway point, was completed with the firing of four shots from one gun and six from the other. Army officers expressed satisfaction, and Lieut. William E. O'Connell, in command of the crews, said that the new pieces had done everything expected of them.

The guns have a range of 30 to 35 miles, which can be increased some by increasing the charge. In the test projectiles weighing 2,400 pounds were hurled 32,000 yards, approximately 30 miles. They are the largest pieces of ordnance in the world and form a part of a new system of defense for New York from attack by sea.

Names in Ink on Back Mark Newborn Babies

Baltimore.—There will be no cases of mistaken identity among the children born in the maternity ward of Johns Hopkins hospital if the new system for marking babies is a success.

At present the babies wear necklaces with their names spelled out in the beads. Under the new plan the names of the babies will be marked on their backs with ink which will wear for about three weeks.

Our Flag

The flag of our country is not simply a piece of bunting which can be purchased for a few times at the nearest shop; it is not a mere cluster of brilliant colors; it is the emblem of dignity, authority, power. In this free land there is no sovereignty, no crown; our sole emblem of dignity to country is the flag.—Gen. Bruce Porter.

Still Floats

The freighter Leonard B. Miller, abandoned by her crew in a storm, is still floating in the Atlantic ocean, and is being hunted for by government vessels.

PICKENS FINED FOR CRASH

Auto Driver Whose Machine Was in Collision With Bus in Which Twelve Were Hurt Admits Reckless Driving—Pays $50.

Clarence Pickens of West Laurens, formerly of West Oneonta, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving after a hearing yesterday before Justice of the Peace Culver in West Laurens. He paid a fine of $50.

Pickens was arrested by Sergeant John Cunningham of the state police on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Matilda Driggs, driver of an auto bus, which turned turtle near the foot of Patrick hill, a short distance from Morris, last Saturday morning after it is alleged Pickens struck the bus with his car while passing it, causing Mrs. Driggs to lose control. Twelve of the passengers, all of whom were state road employes on their way to work, were injured.

It was brought out at the hearing that Pickens was driving a Scripps Booth roadster under a license issued to cover a Chevrolet. The hearing also developed the fact that Pickens had a license to drive and that the crash followed the attempt of Pickens to pass the bus near the foot of the hill, with the result that his machine struck the front left hub cap of the bus, tearing the wheel from Mrs. Driggs' hands, throwing the bus into the ditch where it struck some obstacle, careened sharply back on the road and turned over, throwing all of the fifteen passengers through the top or windows. All but three suffered severe bruises, sprains, cuts or lacerations and ten were treated at the Fox Memorial hospital in this city.

Five of the passengers appeared before Justice Culver yesterday afternoon. They are Stanley Underdown and George Cunningham, both of 10 South Main street; Mrs. Matilda Driggs, driver of the bus; Joseph Stack, 6 Harvey street, and Wendell B. Thimble of 10 Gilbert street. Donald H. Grant represented Mrs. Driggs.

No Time for Basketball or Football, but Men How After Dark.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—The students of Massachusetts Institute of Technology can find no time to train for football or baseball teams, but in order to have a varsity crew held inter-class elimination races at sunrise this morning and practiced with lights on their shoulders after dusk this evening.

At 7 a. m. with laborers on their way to work and a few enthusiastic classmates as spectators, six eight-oared shells went out on the river for spinn. The juniors, stroked by John Greer, won the mile elimination race. The evening session cannot begin until late classes are over, and continue through dusk. After several shells had been lost to sight of the coaches, lights were ordered, and the Charles river basin now presents an evening picture of racing lights.

Woman Owner of Biggest Ranch Is Ninety-Two

Kingsville, Texas.—Mrs. Henrietta M. King, who owns the famous Santa Gertrudis ranch, of approximately 1,200,000 acres, said to be the largest in the United States, has celebrated the ninety-second anniversary of her birth.

The event was made the occasion of a gathering of many friends and relatives at her magnificent ranch home three miles east of Kingsville. Mrs. King is active in body and mind. She entered into the spirit of the birthday celebration with the rest of youth.

Since early womanhood Mrs. King has lived upon the same ranch which is now her home. She was the daughter of a missionary and lived in the remote town of Brownsville in the lower Rio Grande border region when she met Capt. Henry King, a young adventurous steamship captain who had brought his boat up the Rio Grande.

King and the beautiful Henrietta Chamberlain were married and with his savings her husband bought a big tract of land for a few cents an acre. They went to live upon the ranch and for many years Mrs. King endured dangers and privations.

From time to time Captain King added to his ranch possessions until he became one of the greatest cattle barons of the Southwest. He died several years ago and his widow has continued to carry on the cattle business ever since.

AFTER ELECTION BUSINESS

Babson Says Everything Settled. Has Given Receipts to All Forms of Business and Financial Enterprises.

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 6.—Roger W. Babson today issued the following statement regarding the election and business: "Everything in this world has its advantages and its disadvantages as well as its uses and abuses. This applies to the effect of presidential elections on business as well as to everything else. Even sicknesses have their uses since they force men to be quiet for a while, rest up, review their plans, make new resolutions and start afresh. A great English statesman once said: 'American business men need only one thing, namely, to be locked in a room for about three weeks each year and forced to think and get things straightened out.' In this general way the election does a good thing in slowing down business for a few weeks preceding election day. Everyone can use the election as an alibi, or as an excuse, to do what he has not the self control to do without such an alibi. This applies to all lines of business, and really is a good thing.

The banks hold off loaning money until after election. This gives them a chance to get cleared up and in a state of financial position. The merchants tell the salesmen who call on them to wait until after election. This gives them a chance to get their shelves cleaned and to make real buying. The manufacturer uses the election to get his machinery overhauled, adjust wages and introduce some real efficiency in the business. Of course, all these things may business quiet for two or three months preceding election day, but they are all helpful. Hence, although business has been pretty poor in many lines during the summer and fall, yet little has been lost and much gained by the house cleaning and rest period that this election conservation has caused. Business as shown by the Babson chart is today 8 per cent below normal as compared with 16 per cent below normal a year ago. Obviously the fundamental situation is much better than it was then.

It is interesting to note the action of the commodity market in election years. Taking the last five election years, 1904, 1908, 1912, 1916, 1920, we find that the price level of all commodities advanced in four years and declined in one. The decline was shown during the drastic readjustment and depression of 1920 and 1921. Bradstreet's index shows that the price level reached a low of 7.631 in July, 1921. Then there was a steady climb to a point six months later of 8.082, 1923 and 1924 was an exact duplicate of the 1920 movement. 1912 and 1913 was no exception and four years later, we again see a similar movement—a low in August, 1916 (11.441), then a steady rise six months later to about 14.100.

The next election year, 1920, found prices steadily downward. So far, 1924 has followed exactly the movement noted in the four years of rising prices. Groups of commodities, industrial and agricultural, sympathetic with the trend mentioned above. The main difference, however, is noted in the fact that industrial commodities as shown by the Babson Industrial Index, in 1907, 1908, 1912 and 1916 reached the yearly low point before the election and held a higher average into the inauguration year, while agricultural products in these same years reached their low after election.

The results of the election are not satisfactory to everyone. Many people who have worked hard are disappointed with the result. All of us, whatever our allegiance—would like to have had something different. The fact, nevertheless, remains that the election is over and the alibis and excuses of election can no longer be given. Now it is up to the banker to make loans; up to the merchant to buy the goods; up to the manufacturer to start the wheels of industry. We should all get busy and forge ahead. We cannot expect to get back at once to boom times. The readjustment process is not yet complete, but we have passed the low point and should steadily work upward. All statistics indicate that business should pick up for the next few months at least. America is a great country and has the opportunity to do the banking and build up the commerce of the world. The developments which have taken place in Europe during the past few days should materially help the situation.

IN CHILDREN'S COURT

Judge Welch Hears Mothers' Complaints of 18 Children at Term Held in Oneonta.

The welfare of 16 children provided the cause of a full day of consideration for Judge U. G. Welch at a term of children's court held in Oneonta, on Wednesday, adjournment not being taken until late in the afternoon. The case of a young Oneonta lad of 15 years, who pleaded guilty to a number of petty robberies, the case having previously been mentioned in The Star, was one and he was placed on probation to Miss Blake of this city. Two sisters, one 14 and the other 13, were brought into the court, one on a charge of juvenile delinquency and the other for violation of parole. It appeared that both girls were thought to be keeping bad company, and both are under probation in charge of Miss Blake.

Four boys and one girl, all of one family, were placed on parole after their case of improper guardianship had been considered by the court. Upon the promise of the mother to give more attention to her children, the case was continued.

Three children of another family were considered for juvenile delinquency, and all were placed under probation. The case of a young girl of 13, was discussed by the court and she was placed upon probation to Miss Blake. Another girl of 12 was found guilty of juvenile delinquency, in that she was out with boys and men until late hours, was committed to the Hudson state school under the rules of that institution.

A petition was filed with Judge Welch in the case of three children, the parents having separated, due to a dispute as to their custody. The father and mother appeared and the case was discussed informally, definite action being deferred.

FINED IN CITY COURT

Joseph Pauling Accused of Disorderly Conduct—Speeder Pays $10.

Joseph Pauling of 11 Dewey street, who was arrested by Joseph Murphy of 8 Dewey street who alleged that the former was so befuddled by liquor that he tried to get into the wrong house, was arraigned before Judge Lee D. VanWert yesterday morning on a charge of disorderly conduct under Section 720 of the Penal law. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $10. Mr. Murphy turned Pauling over to Patrolmen Walley and Tamsett after it is alleged he refused to leave the porch of the house he was trying to enter in the mistaken belief it was his own.

August Weist who was arrested Wednesday night by Patrolmen Simmons and Tamsett on a charge of public intoxication admitted his guilt and was fined $10.

Paul Hauer of 40 West End avenue, who was arrested by Patrolman Cross on a charge of reckless driving on Main street and who denied the charge when first arraigned, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding in violation of the city ordinances when he appeared at the time when the case was adjourned.
